1.6639 Work and personal life/43066 Work-life imbalance

Nowadays, it is important to maintain the right balance between one's/your job and private, personal life, such as leisure time (with family members). How widespread do you think this problem is? What problems it may bring?/how important it is and why people find it hard to achieve it?

如今，在工作和私人生活之间保持适当的平衡是很重要的，比如(与家人的)休闲时间。你认为这个问题有多普遍?它会带来什么问题?/它有多重要，为什么人们很难实现它?

In recent years, the issue of keeping the right balance between work and personal life has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, this balance is very important and it is hard to achieve.

First and foremost, having free time is good for your health. It is quite important for workers because working all day makes people feel sick. For example, many office workers are very tired every day, and they need time to sleep well. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that good health is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that jobs are very busy today. This factor is particularly significant because companies give people too much work to do. A relevant example is that my friend often works until late at night. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of family time. So, finishing work on time is difficult.

In conclusion, more and more employees are focusing on work-life balance. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of relaxation. In light of these points, it is clear that keeping the right balance between work and personal life is necessary, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

2.41936 Restoration of buildings

More and more countries spend large amounts of money on the restoration of buildings instead of on modern housing. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this analysis? Support your writing with your experience or examples.

越来越多的国家把大量的钱花在建筑物的修复上，而不是现代住房上。你同意或不同意这种分析？用你的经历或例子来支持。

In recent years, the issue of spending money on old buildings has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of saving old buildings has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, repairing old buildings is good for history. It is quite important for tourists because they can see old culture and art. For example, many people visit the Great Wall in China to learn about Chinese history and culture. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that fixing old buildings is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that we need to build more new houses. This factor is particularly significant because cities have too many people now. A relevant example is that young people cannot afford houses, because houses are expensive. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of building modern flats. So, spending money on housing is also right.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on this problem. While fixing old buildings has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we need a balance, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

3.41974 Countryside or city

Living in the countryside or having a city life, which one do you prefer? Please use examples or your personal experience to support your opinion.

住在乡村还是住在城市，你更喜欢哪一个？请用例子或你的个人经历来支持你的观点。

In recent years, the issue of living places has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of choosing between the city and the countryside has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, living in a city offers great convenience. It is quite important for young people because everything we need is accessible, such as shops, hospitals and transportation. For example, a person can find a 24-hour store if they need something late at night. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that convenience is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that the countryside provides people with a peaceful lifestyle. This factor is particularly significant because there is less pollution and noise in the countryside, which helps reduce stress. A relevant example is that people in the countryside can enjoy fresh air and grow their own vegetables. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of a peaceful environment. So, the quiet life in the country is a great benefit.

In conclusion, more and more families are focusing on the living environment. While city life has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that both lifestyles have their own unique points, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

4. 39930 Age restrictions

Age restrictions can be seen everywhere. It is believed that people should not do things until they reach the right age, such as marriage, and driving. Select one activity and state the minimum age that you think. Support with your own experiences.

年龄限制随处可见。人们认为，在达到合适的年龄之前，不应该做一些事情，比如结婚和开车。选择一项活动，并说明你认为的最低年龄。用你自己的经历来支持。

In recent years, the issue of the minimum age for driving has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of setting a driving age has both advantages and disadvantages to consider.

First and foremost, allowing teenagers to drive at a younger age, such as 16, can provide them with independence. It is quite important for teenagers because it allows young people to get to school or part-time jobs on their own. For example, a 16-year-old student can participate in more after-school activities by car. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that early independence is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that a higher driving age, like 18, is much safer for everyone on the road. This factor is particularly significant because 18-year-olds have better judgment than younger teens. A relevant example is that an older driver is less likely to be distracted by friends in the car. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of safety.

In conclusion, more and more parents are focusing on road safety. While setting a younger driving age has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we must balance convenience with safety, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

5.39808 Foreign language learning (AI)

Advanced technology such as artificial intelligence can translate a foreign language easily. Do you think learning a foreign language is still necessary? Support your point of view with your own experience?

像人工智能这样的先进技术可以很容易地翻译外语。你认为学习一门外语仍然是必要的吗?用你自己的经验来支持你的观点。

In recent years, the issue of learning a language has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of learning foreign languages has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, learning a language allows for a deep connection with other cultures. It is quite important for students because language holds the key to understanding a culture's way of thinking. For example, we could only truly appreciate the jokes in a comedy show after I understood the cultural background. Therefore, this example collectively underscores the importance of recognizing that cultural understanding is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that AI translators provide incredible convenience and speed. This factor is particularly significant because it turns communication problems into simple tasks. A relevant example is that a tourist can use a phone app to instantly ask for directions. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of easy communication.

In conclusion, more and more global citizens are focusing on how to communicate effectively. While AI translation has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that technology is a helpful tool, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

6.39792 High pay

Should there be a maximum wage for the high-paying group? Is it good or bad? To what extent do you agree with this statement? Please give your reasons or arguments.
对于高收入群体，是否应该设定最高工资限制呢？是好是坏？你在多大程度上同意这种说法？请给出你的理由或论据。

In recent years, the issue of setting a maximum wage has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of setting a maximum wage for the high-paying group has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, setting a maximum wage can show fairness. It is quite important for lower-income workers because it could reduce the huge gap between the rich and the poor. For example, money saved from a CEO's high salary could be sent to factory workers. Therefore, this reason collectively underscores the importance of recognizing that social fairness is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that a maximum wage could harm the economy. This factor is particularly significant because it may discourage talented people from working hard if they know their income has a limit. A relevant example is that a top scientist might decide to move to another country that does not have a wage limit. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of rewarding.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on income inequality. While a maximum wage has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that the wage limit has both pros and cons, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

7.39756 The rights of privacy

People who are famous entertainers or sportspeople should give up the right to privacy because this is the price of fame. To what extent do you agree or disagree with this point of view? Give your opinion with your experiences.

那些著名的艺人或运动员应该放弃隐私权，因为这是成名的代价。你在多大程度上同意或不同意这一观点？用你的经历给出你的观点。

In recent years, the issue of privacy has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of expecting famous people to give up their privacy has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, the privacy of famous shows us who they really are. It is quite important for fans because following a celebrity's life provides entertainment and connection. For example, magazines and TV can show us the lives of famous people. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that public attention is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that famous people are still human beings who need a private life. This factor is particularly significant because public attention can cause inconvenience. A relevant example is that a famous singer cannot take their child to a park freely. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of basic human rights.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on the well-being of famous people. While public interest in celebrities has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that famous people should not lose their right to privacy, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

8.39740 Working fewer hours

In the future, people will work fewer hours at their jobs. To what extent do you agree with it? Please support your opinion with your own experience.

在未来，人们的工作时间将会减少。对于这一观点，您有多大程度的认同呢？请用您的亲身经历来支持您的观点。

In recent years, the issue of working hours has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of working fewer hours has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, technology like AI will make our work much more efficient. It is quite important for employees because AI can handle many difficult tasks. For example, there are many software that can organize data in only a few minutes. Therefore, this example underscores the importance of recognizing that working efficiency is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that competition can keep people working longer hours. This factor is particularly significant because some people always want to work more to earn more money for a better life. A relevant example is that many people today would work overtime to save for a house. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of working overtime.

In conclusion, more and more companies and workers are focusing on the idea of work-life balance. While the desire to earn more money has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that the development of technology will lead to shorter working hours, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

9.39736 Shorten working week

Unemployment among young people is a serious problem. Some people propose shortening working weeks in order to hire more people to work. What do you think are the advantages and disadvantages of this approach? Is it applicable just to young workers or the whole workforce?

年轻人失业是一个严重的问题。有些人建议缩短工作时间，以雇佣更多的人工作。你认为这种方法的优点和缺点是什么？它只适用于年轻员工还是适用于全体员工？

In recent years, the issue of unemployment has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of shortening working weeks has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, a shorter workweek can directly create more job opportunities. It is quite important for young people because if employees work fewer hours, companies must hire new staff to cover the time. For example, instead of one person working 40 hours, a company could hire two people to work 20 hours each. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that job creation is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that this solution could lead to lower pay. This factor is particularly significant because working fewer hours often means a lower salary. A relevant example is that companies might face higher costs for training a larger number of employees. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of a good financial situation.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on solving youth unemployment. While a shorter workweek has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that the shorter workweek has advantages and disadvantages, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

10.39608 Compulsory learning

Learning a foreign language should be compulsory at school. Please use examples or your personal experience to support your opinion.

在学校学习一门外语应该是必修课。请用例子或你的个人经历来支持你的观点。

In recent years, the issue of language learning has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of this school rule has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, learning a new language helps us understand other people and their cultures. It is quite important for students because it can broaden their outlook to a bigger world. For example, when I started learning English, I was able to watch simple cartoons and understand the stories. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that understanding the world is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that asking all students to learn a language can be a problem. This factor is particularly significant because some students may find it too hard and it could make them feel stressed. A relevant example is that a student who is good at science might get a bad grade in a language class. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of letting students choose.

In conclusion, more and more teachers and parents are focusing on what is best for students. While a required language class has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that learning a foreign language has both advantages and disadvantages, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

11.39604 Children's grow up in the 21st century

It's harder for children to grow up in the 21st century than it was in the past. Agree or disagree.

21 世纪的孩子比过去更难成长。同意还是不同意。

In recent years, the issue of children has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of children growing up today has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, children today face more pressure than in the past. It is quite important for children because too much pressure can affect their mental and physical health. For example, many children now need to deal with a lot of school exams. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that the difficulty of growing is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that children today enjoy better living conditions. This factor is particularly significant because modern technology makes learning easier and faster. A relevant example is that children can learn new knowledge online. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of modern educational resources. So, growing up today is not always negative.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on the challenges children face. While modern life has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that children today grow up in a complex environment, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

12.39423 The information revolution

The information revolution brought about by modern mass media has both positive and negative consequences for individuals and society. To what extent do you agree or disagree? Discuss with your own experience.

现代大众传播媒介带来的信息革命对个人和社会既有积极的影响，也有消极的影响。你在多大程度上同意或不同意？用你自己的经历来讨论。

In recent years, the issue of modern media has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of the information revolution has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, getting information is easy. It is quite important for students because they can learn new things online. For example, people can use Google to find answers quickly, and they can talk to friends far away online. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that using media is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that it has some bad problems. This factor is particularly significant because some news on the Internet is false and fake. A relevant example is that children may play too many games on phones. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of being careful. So, mass media can have some bad influence on people.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on this issue. While the information revolution has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we should use the media wisely, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

13.18759 Deduction of late submission

Some universities deduct marks from students' work if it is given in late, what are your views and what action would you recommend taking?

有些大学如果学生迟交作业就会扣分，你对此有什么看法？你会建议采取什么措施？

In recent years, the issue of students handing in their homework late has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, deducting marks for late work is a good idea.

First and foremost, it helps students learn to be on time. It is quite important for students because they must finish their school work quickly. For example, my classmates always finish their homework on Friday night, which means that they study more effectively than before. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that time management is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that it is fair to every student. This factor is particularly significant because universities need clear rules for homework. A relevant example is that good students can get good marks. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of fairness. So, having rules is very important.

In conclusion, more and more universities are focusing on this problem. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of being on time. In light of these points, it is clear that universities should deduct marks from students' work if it is given in late, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

14.6679 Large shopping malls or small shops

Large shopping malls are replacing small shops. What do you think are the positive effects? Discuss with appropriate examples.

大型购物中心正在取代小商店。你认为积极的影响是什么？

In recent years, the issue of shopping malls has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, the development of large shopping malls brings many positive effects.

First and foremost, large shopping malls are useful for consumers. It is quite important for people because they can buy different products in one place. For example, shopping malls usually include supermarkets and clothing stores, which helps them save shopping time. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that large shopping malls are indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that large shopping malls create more jobs. This factor is particularly significant because employment is important for a country. A relevant example is that shopping malls need lots of staff. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of shopping malls. So, large shopping malls play a positive role in society.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on the growth of large shopping malls. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of their positive influence. In light of these points, it is clear that large shopping malls bring many advantages, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

15.31205 Climate change

Global climate change is a concerning issue, Who should take responsibilities? Governments, large companies, or individuals?

全球气候变化是一个令人关注的问题，谁应该承担责任?政府、大公司还是个人?

In recent years, the issue of global climate change has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, governments, big companies, and people must work together to fix this problem.

First and foremost, governments are very important. It is quite important for citizens because governments can make rules to stop pollution. For example, they can stop factories from making dirty air. And governments have money to help the environment. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that government action is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that companies and people should help too. This factor is particularly significant because we all live on this planet. A relevant example is that people can drive less and walk more to save energy, and companies can produce more eco-friendly products. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of protecting nature. So, everyone must do something good.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on the environment. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of working together. In light of these points, it is clear that we need to stop climate change, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

16.21279 Study effectively

In order to study effectively, a student needs time, comfort and peace. So it is impossible for a student to combine learning and employment at the same time, because one distracts the other. To what extent do you think the statements are realistic? Support your opinion with examples.

为了有效地学习，学生需要时间、舒适和宁静。因此，学生不可能同时把学习和工作结合起来，因为一个会分散另一个。你认为这些说法在多大程度上是现实的？用例子支持你的观点。

In recent years, the issue of studying and working at the same time has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of combining study and employment has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, working and studying at the same time can distract students from their studies. It is quite important for students because effective learning needs time and energy. For example, some students are too tired to do homework after working. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that the challenge is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that some students can successfully combine work and study. This factor is particularly significant because part-time jobs can help students manage their time better. A relevant example is that many students work on weekends. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of practical experience. So, students can do both things.

In conclusion, more and more students are focusing on how to balance study and employment. While doing both things has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that the statements are realistic, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

17.20362 Mass media

问法一: The mass media, including TV and newspapers, have a great influence on humans, particularly on the younger generation. It has a pivotal role in shaping people's opinions. Discuss the extent to which you agree or disagree. Use your own experience or examples.

大众传媒, 包括电视和报纸, 对人类有很大的影响, 特别是对年轻一代。它在塑造人们的观点方面起着关键作用。讨论你同意或不同意的程度。用你自己的经历或例子。

问法二: The mass media including TV, radio and newspaper influence our society and shape our opinions and characters. What is your opinion? 包括电视、广播和报纸在内的大众媒体影响着我们的社会, 塑造了我们的观点和性格。你的意见是什么?

In recent years, the issue of the influence of mass media on society has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of mass media has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, mass media helps information spread widely and quickly. It is quite important for people because they can learn international news. For example, television allows people to know what is happening around the world and can guide public opinion through news reports. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that the positive role of the media is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that mass media may also have negative effects. This factor is particularly significant because false information may be provided. A relevant example is that false news can mislead the public. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of critical thinking. So, media influence is not always positive.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on the influence of mass media in modern society. While mass media has its benefits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that mass media influences people, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

18.19926 Experiential learning

Some people point out that experiential learning (i.e. learning by doing it) can work well in formal education. Nonetheless, others think a traditional form of teaching is the best. Do you think experiential learning can work well in high schools or colleges? 有些人指出，体验式学习(即通过做来学习)在正规教育中很有效。尽管如此，其他人认为传统的教学形式是最好的。你认为体验式学习在高中或大学里行得通吗？

In recent years, the issue of learning styles in schools has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I believe that the issue of experiential learning has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, learning by doing is good for students. It is quite important for young people because they can practice real skills. For example, science students do experiments in labs, which can help students develop their practical abilities. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that active learning is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that traditional teaching is also important. This factor is particularly significant because teachers can explain difficult ideas. A relevant example is that students need to learn all the materials carefully to pass the final exams. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of traditional teaching. So, traditional teaching is also necessary for students.

In conclusion, more and more schools are focusing on learning methods. While learning by doing has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we need a mix of both, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

19.18808 Experience is the best teacher

Experience is the best teacher. Some people think life experiences teach people more effectively than books or formal education. How far do you agree with this statement? Give your reason or provide your personal experience.

经验是最好的老师。有些人认为生活经历比书本或正规教育更能有效地教人。你在多大程度上同意这种说法?给出你的理由或提供你的个人经历。

In recent years, the issue of experience has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of experience or formal education has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, life experience can teach people practical skills. It is quite important for people because real situations help people learn faster and remember better. For example, travel can teach students communication and problem-solving skills and can help people understand real life. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that practical experience is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that books and formal education are still very important. This factor is particularly significant because schools provide basic knowledge and clear guidance. A relevant example is that students can learn mathematics through classes. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of formal education. So, experience alone is not enough.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on different ways of learning. While life experience has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that both experience and education are important, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

20.12237 Build more roads

Due to cities expanding, governments should create better public transportation networks rather than build more roads for vehicle owning population. To what extent do you agree with this statement? Give the reasons for your opinion.

由于城市的扩张，政府应该创造更好的公共交通网络，而不是为拥有汽车的人口建造更多的道路。你在多大程度上同意这种说法？给出你观点的理由。

In recent years, the issue of urban transportation has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of road construction has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, developing better public transportation networks is beneficial for cities. It is quite important for governments because public transportation can reduce traffic jams. For example, buses and trains can carry many people at the same time, and good public transportation can reduce air pollution. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that improving public transportation is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that building more roads is still necessary. This factor is particularly significant because some people rely heavily on cars. A relevant example is that people living in rural areas may have limited access to public transportation. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of road construction. So, building roads is important.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on transportation problems. While better public transportation has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that both ways should be considered, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

21.10080 Medical technology

Medical technology is responsible for the increasing average life expectancy. Do you think it is a curse or a blessing?

医疗技术提高了平均预期寿命。你认为这是诅咒还是祝福？

In recent years, the issue of medical technology has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of longer life caused by medical technology has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, medical technology helps people live longer and healthier. It is quite important for people because many diseases can now be controlled. For example, patients can recover from serious diseases, which means many older people can live with families longer. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that the advantage of medical technology is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that a longer life can also bring problems. This factor is particularly significant because an aging population may increase pressure on society. A relevant example is that elderly people may need medical care. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of normal life expectancy. So, longer life is not always great.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on the impact of medical technology on life expectancy. While medical technology has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that medical technology is a blessing rather than a curse, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

22.15666 The design of buildings

How do you think that the design of buildings has affected, either positively or negatively, where people live and work?

建筑设计如何影响人们工作和生活的地方的，无论是积极的还是消极的？

In recent years, the issue of building design has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, good building design helps people live and work better.

First and foremost, good houses make people feel happy. It is quite important for families because they need a comfortable place to live. For example, my house has big windows and lots of sunlight, which is good for my physical and mental health. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that a good home is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that good offices help people work better. This factor is particularly significant because workers spend a lot of time in the office. A relevant example is that some companies have big and clean office rooms, which can improve the work efficiency of the workers. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of working in a nice place. So, good design helps workers work well.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on building design. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of comfortable buildings. In light of these points, it is clear that we need good indoor design, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

23.15660 Digital media

With the increase of digital media available online, the role of the library has become obsolete. Universities should only procure digital materials rather than constantly updated textbooks. Discuss both the advantages and disadvantages of this position and give your own point of view.

随着网上数字媒体的增加，图书馆的作用已经过时了。大学应该只购买数字材料，而不是不断更新的教科书。讨论这个观点的优点和缺点

In recent years, the issue of digital materials has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of digital learning materials has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, digital materials are convenient for students. It is quite important for students because they can get information anytime and anywhere. For example, students can read e-books on their phones, which means there is no need for them to buy many textbooks. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that the usefulness of digital materials is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that printed books are important. This factor is particularly significant because some students learn better from physical books. A relevant example is that students may feel more focused when reading paper books in a quiet library. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of traditional learning methods. So, physical books are necessary.

In conclusion, more and more universities are focusing on the use of digital learning resources. While digital materials have their merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that universities should use both digital materials and traditional textbooks, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

24.10074 Studying old plays

There are both problems and benefits for high school students who study plays and works of theatres written centuries ago. Discuss and use your own experience.

高中生学习几个世纪前写的戏剧和戏剧作品既有问题也有好处。讨论并运用你自己的经验。

In recent years, the issue of plays and works of theatres has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of learning plays and works of theatres has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, learning old plays can improve students' creative ability. It is quite important for students because it can build their imagination. For example, students can rewrite some new plays, which also helps them develop critical-thinking ability. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that the literature is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that it is difficult for high school students to learn old plays. This factor is particularly significant because the dramatic works often include unfamiliar words. A relevant example is that if they find some difficult words, they will easily give up learning those plays. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of the use of language. So, language barrier is a big problem.

In conclusion, more and more schools are focusing on teaching old plays. While works of theatres have their merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that there are both problems and benefits for high school students who study plays and theatre works, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

25.6709 Global problems

Global problems related to governments and international organizations, what are the problems and what is your solution?

与政府和国际组与政府和国际组织相关的全球性问题有哪些？这些问题是什么？而你又有什么解决办法呢？

In recent years, the issue of global problems related to governments has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, many countries do not work together well, so we need better solutions.

First and foremost, the big problem is that rich countries do not help poor ones. It is quite important for poor people because they really need food, clean water and money to live. For example, some rich countries ignore the problems in poor countries, and bad leaders often take the money for themselves. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that bad cooperation is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that international organizations must make strict rules. This factor is particularly significant because big organizations like the UN can help different countries. A relevant example is that the UN helps countries to stop wars and save lives. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of working together peacefully. So, following the international rules is necessary.

In conclusion, more and more world leaders are focusing on these global problems. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of peace and help. In light of these points, it is clear that different nations must help and support each other, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

26.6677 Employees in decision-making process

公司高层应该让员工参与决策过程。讨论一下。

In recent years, the issue of decision-making process has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, company leaders should include employees in the decision-making process.

First and foremost, employees' participation improves the quality of decisions. It is quite important for companies because workers provide practical insights based on daily operations. For example, at a local factory, involving staff in workflow planning reduced errors and increased efficiency, which also boosts employee motivation. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that employee involvement is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that collaborative decisions create a positive workplace culture. This factor is particularly significant because employees feel respected and valued. A relevant example is that teams that contributed to strategic planning reported higher job satisfaction. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of workplace collaboration. So, engaging employees in decisions strengthens the company culture.

In conclusion, more and more managers and employees are focusing on employees' participation in decision-making. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of shared decision-making. In light of these points, it is clear that involving staff improves both performance and satisfaction, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

27.6669 The pressing problem

The world's governments and organizations confront a multigrade of issues. What is the most pressing problem facing the inhabitants of our planet, and what is the solution?

世界各国政府和组织面临着各种各样的问题。我们星球上的居民面临的最紧迫的问题是什么？解决办法是什么？

In recent years, the issue of serious global problems has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, the most pressing problem is climate change, and we need a quick solution.

First and foremost, the weather is changing and getting very hot. It is quite important for people because hot weather destroys our beautiful homes and farms. For example, many places do not have enough rain and clean water for people to drink, and some animals are dying because they have no food. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that global warming is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that governments and people must work together to save the earth. This factor is particularly significant because we can do simple things to stop this big problem, such as recycling. A relevant example is that we can drive cars less and plant more green trees in the city. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of protecting nature. So, taking action now is very necessary.

In conclusion, more and more world leaders are focusing on saving our planet. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of a clean environment. In light of these points, it is clear that we must solve this problem quickly, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

28.6653 Tourism

问法一：For a less developed country, the disadvantage of tourism is as great as the advantage, show your opinion and give the reasons. 对于一个欠发达的国家来说，旅游业的缺点和有点一样大，展示你的观点并给出理由。

In recent years, the issue of tourism in less developed countries has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that tourism has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, tourism brings money and creates jobs for local people. It is quite important for a developing country because the government can use this money to build better roads and schools. For example, tourism helps local people sell food to visitors, which also helps to show a country's culture to the world. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that economic development is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that tourism can damage the environment. This factor is particularly significant because too many tourists may bring pollution. A relevant example is that constructions can destroy some of the natural environment. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of protecting nature. So, tourism can be harmful for a poor country.

In conclusion, more and more communities are focusing on tourism. While traveling has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we need to manage tourism carefully, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

29.6649 Reputation or short-term strategies

Should marketing for consumer goods companies like clothing and food focus on reputation or on short-term strategies like discounts and special offers? And in what ways can this impact on their reputation? Why?

像服装和食品这样的消费品公司的营销应该注重声誉,还是注重折扣和特价等短期策略?这对他们的声誉有什么影响?为什么?

In recent years, the issue of marketing has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that discounts and special offers have both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, a strong reputation builds customer trust. It is quite important for companies because trust lasts longer than a one-time sale. For example, people are willing to pay more for good quality and safety. Also, relying on sales can make people think that the product is cheap. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of reputation, as is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that short-term strategies can increase sales quickly. This factor is particularly significant because it can attract new customers. A relevant example is that some clothing brands offer "buy one get one free" to attract young shoppers. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of short-term promotions. So, discounts are a useful strategy.

In conclusion, more and more brands are focusing on their marketing approach. While short-term strategies have their merits, it is important to consider their potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that a good reputation is more valuable in the long run, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

30.6641 Children's acts

Parents are held to be legally responsible for the actions of their children. What is your opinion? Support it with personal examples.

家长在法律上需对孩子的行为负责。你的看法是什么？用个人的事例来支持它。

In recent years, the issue of children's actions has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that parents should be held responsible, but children also have responsibilities.

First and foremost, it makes parents pay more attention to their children's behavior. It is quite important for young kids because children often learn from their parents' guidance. For example, parents should teach their children to obey laws, because the law can teach their children what is right and what is wrong. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of parental responsibility, as is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that children sometimes act independently. This factor is particularly significant because teenagers often make choices against their parents' teaching. A relevant example is that a child might steal even if the parents are good people. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of self-discipline. So, parents cannot control everything their children do.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on parental roles. While parents' involvement has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we should also teach children about consequences, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

31.6617 Preserving the beautiful buildings of the past

It is important to preserve the beautiful buildings of the past, even if it will be expensive to do so. To what extent do you agree or disagree with it.

保护过去那些美丽的建筑是非常重要的，即便这样做会花费大量资金。对于这一点，您是完全同意还是完全不同意呢？

In recent years, the issue of preserving the beautiful buildings of the past has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, saving these old houses is very necessary even if it is expensive.

First and foremost, old buildings tell us about our history. It is quite important for young students because they can see the real culture by looking at them. For example, my school often takes us to visit an old castle near my home, because it helps us remember the past and history. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that teaching history is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that beautiful buildings can help the city make money. This factor is particularly significant because many tourists from other countries come to see them. A relevant example is that tourists like to visit the Great Wall and buy food and gifts there. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of developing tourism and preserving the beautiful buildings. So, the high cost is not a big problem.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on this important topic. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of our history and culture. In light of these points, it is clear that we must spend money to save the old historical buildings, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

Nowadays TV has become an essential part of life. It serves as a medium for spreading news and awareness, and for some, it acts as a companion. What is your opinion about this?

如今，电视已成为人们生活中不可或缺的一部分。它充当了传播新闻和普及知识的媒介，对一些人而言，它还起到了陪伴的作用。你对此有何看法？

In recent years, the issue of television has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, TV helps spread news and awareness, and it acts as a companion in our daily lives.

First and foremost, TV helps people get information quickly. It is quite important for families because they need to know what is happening in the world. For example, my parents watch news programs and reports every day, because it helps them learn about society. Students can also learn science and history through TV. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that spreading news is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that TV acts as a companion for people who live alone. This factor is particularly significant because many old people live alone at home. A relevant example is that my grandmother watches funny shows on TV to feel happy when she is at home alone. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of reducing loneliness. So, TV is a good friend for lonely people.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on watching television. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of TV. In light of these points, it is clear that TV brings many benefits to our daily lives, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

33.6585 Invention

What are the advantages and disadvantages of living in an era in which new things are constantly being invented?

生活在一个新事物不断被发明的时代有什么好处和坏处？

In recent years, the issue of technology has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of new things has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, new technology is very beneficial to society. It is quite important for families because they can talk to each other easily. For example, we use smartphones to call our friends in another country every day, and we can learn new things on the internet. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that living in this era is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that it can also lead to some bad effects. This factor is particularly significant because people will become very lazy if they rely too much on the new technology. A relevant example is that many children play video games all day and do not go outside for sport. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of doing sports for health. So, overuse of new technology is bad for our bodies.

In conclusion, more and more people are focusing on some recent inventions. While the technological world has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we should use technology wisely, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

34. 6543 Law changes human behaviours

Some people believe law changes human behaviours. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

有些人认为法律会改变人的行为。你同意还是不同意？

In recent years, the issue of laws' impact on human behaviours has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that law can change human behaviors.

First and foremost, law creates clear rules and punishments. It is quite important for citizens because it stops people from doing harmful things. For example, laws can stop people from stealing, so the fear of punishment can guide many people's choices. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of rules, as indeed is the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that the law creates a safe environment for our community. This factor is particularly significant because people need to feel secure in their daily lives. A relevant example is that laws against violence protect citizens from harm. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of public safety. So, law is a necessary tool for social order.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on the role of law. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of regulations. In light of these points, it is clear that law can bring many benefits to us, and we must take action to ensure a better future.

35.6517 The value of traveling is overrated

It is often argued that the value of traveling is overrated, and that there are many brilliant scholars who study locally. Is travel really necessary to attain a higher education?

人们常常认为旅游的价值被高估了，而且有许多杰出的学者在当地学习。旅行真的是获得高等教育的必要条件吗？

In recent years, the issue of the value of traveling has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that travel is not really necessary to attain a higher education.

First and foremost, traveling helps students see the world. It is quite important for young people because they can learn about new cultures outside the classroom. For example, students can visit old museums in other countries to learn local history, which can develop their interest in learning and exploring the world. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that learning through travel is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that studying from books is also very good. This factor is particularly significant because we can learn everything from books and the Internet today. A relevant example is that many brilliant scholars never leave their homes but still achieve a lot. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of reading books. So, travel is not necessary for everyone.

In conclusion, more and more students are focusing on higher education. While traveling has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we can study well anywhere, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

36.6511 Formal written examinations

Many education systems assess students using formal written examinations. Those kinds of exams are a valid method. To what extent do you agree or disagree?

许多教育系统通过正式的笔试来评估学生。这类考试是有效的方法。你在多大程度上同意或不同意？

In recent years, the issue of formal written examinations has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. In fact, I highly believe that the issue of written exams has both advantages and disadvantages.

First and foremost, taking exams is a fair way to test students. It is quite important for schools because every student answers the same questions at the same time. For example, all my classmates sit in the classroom to write the same paper, and teachers can also give marks and feedback easily. Therefore, these examples collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that fair assessment is indeed the case.

On the other hand, critics point out that exams make students feel very nervous. This factor is particularly significant because young people are afraid of getting low marks. A relevant example is that my friend works hard but forgets everything when he gets the exam paper. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of reducing stress. So, taking exams is not always good for everyone.

In conclusion, more and more teachers and parents are focusing on formal written examinations. While this method has its merits, it is important to consider its potential downsides. In light of these points, it is clear that we should use different ways to check students' learning results, and we must take action to maximize benefits while minimizing adverse impacts.

37.6491 Studying climate change

Imagine you have been assigned to work on research about climate change. Which area of study would you choose to work on and why? Give examples using cases from your chosen area of study.

假设你被分配到一项关于气候变化的研究。你会选择研究哪个领域，为什么？

In recent years, the issue of climate change has sparked widespread debate. This matter is extremely important to both individuals and society. From my perspective, I would choose to work on renewable energy as a research area.

First and foremost, renewable energy development reduces carbon emissions. It is quite important for society because lower emissions help prevent extreme weather and global warming. For example, Germany has invested in solar and wind power, and this action can create many jobs and can support the national economy. Therefore, these reasons collectively underscore the importance of recognizing that emission reduction is indeed the case.

In addition, another key reason supporting the argument is that renewable energy improves energy security. This factor is particularly significant because countries become less dependent on imported fuels. A relevant example is that China has expanded its wind energy capacity. Through this example, one can better appreciate the value of energy independence. So, developing renewable energy benefits both the environment and society.

In conclusion, more and more governments are focusing on renewable energy. It is obvious that we should acknowledge the importance of sustainable energy. In light of these points, it is clear that researching renewable energy contributes to climate change, and we must take action to ensure a better future.
